A Maine physiologist claims to have discovered how to prolong life indefinitely. Some men in Arizona think they know how to prolong tenure of office.

A family of noble German ancestry were poisoned in New York by eating rich and costly food. They should have stuck to the sauer kraut and speck of their ancestors.

The St. Louis Globe Democrat takes exception to Wm. J. Bryan for addressing a Chataqua meeting and introducing the subject of silver. The Chataqua is an educational society and Mr. Bryan's mission is to educate.

The Gazette says "we all have our enemies." Can this be a case of misery loving company?

Capt. Gen. Weyler speaks about a pitched battle in the near future. He must be contemplating another raid on the insurgent hospitals.

Spain tries to conceal her impotency in the Cuban war by threatening to demolish the United States.

Col. Jones formerly of the Post-Dispatch, St. Louis, proposes to start a free silver paper in St. Louis with $2,000,000 to back him.

The news continues to arrive of the vigorous measures adopted to conquer the Cubans, which consist of raiding Cuban hospitals and murdering the sick and wounded and their attendants. This is one form of Spanish chivalry.

Judge Hawkins, says the Pick and Drill, in passing sentence upon Miller recently, used these words: "And in your case, Miller, I desire to further say that it is to be hoped that Arizona will never be cursed with a chief executive who will show you any clemency." He gave Miller a life sentence in accordance with the verdict of the jury, though realizing that death should be his portion. He recognized in Miller the instigator of the foul plot—the real cause of the murder—and was not pleased with the jury's verdict.

SAM SMALL DAUGHTER.

Mrs. Loretta S. Ford Defendant in a Second Divorce Suit.

Mrs. Loretta S. Ford, a daughter of Rev. Samuel Small, is again to figure in a divorce suit. A memorandum was today filed in the law and equity court in Richmond, Va., by the counsel of her husband, Stuart H. Ford, asking for an absolute divorce from this lady. The bill containing the declaration and cause of this proceeding will be submitted in the case later. Mrs. Ford was a Mrs. Jackson, of Knoxville, Tenn., and was in Arizona for many years, she was divorced a short time after her first marriage. Her last marriage was romantic one. The lady met Mr. Ford at Old Point Comfort, and after a four days' courtship the couple came here and were married.

The divorce, when it comes up for trial, promises to be one of the most interesting heard here for a long time. The plaintiff's counsel are two of the best known Republican leaders in Virginia.—Richmond News.

BISBEE NEWS.

Bisbee, July 2, 1897
COPPERINGS.

Tombstone will be well represented at the celebration tomorrow.

A number of strangers arrived today on the train to be on hand at the celebration.

Joe Martin was a visitor in town today and will remain to see our celebration.

The Bisbee celebration starts tonight. The ball will be an auspicious event and a large gathering will be there.

Frank Johnson, Abe Norwalk and Frank Dryden three popular cowboys from the Sulphur Spring Valley are in town. They have some cow ponies that they will enter into the pony race.

The town is being put in gala attire some of the business men already beginning to decorate their places with bunting. By tomorrow the town will have been appropriately garbed in the national colors.

A rumor that the ball game between the local nine and the Huachuca's would not be played because of the latter not being on hand is made out of whole cloth. The rumor could not be traced to any reliable source and the committee have heard nothing to the contrary of their previous arrangement.

As the date nears, the Bisbee celebration promises to be a monster in point of attendance. From all points it is learned that large parties intend being on hand. A large number of cowboys are certain to be here to participate in the steer-tying contest and altogether the attendance will far exceed the anticipations of the committee. This will be the banner celebration and a most memorable event.

COPPERINGS.

Extensive preparations are being made to feed and amuse the multitude.

During the afternoon the main street of the town was littered with men and women, many of them from other towns and communities.

The evening train brought the Ft. Grant brass band and stringed orchestra. The band are fine-uniformed expert musicians and discourse exceptionally good music.

Col. Zabriske of Tucson, the orator of the day, arrived yesterday morning on a special in company with Mr. Lewis Williams who had been attending the republican central committee in Phoenix.

Yesterday a PROSPECTOR reporter took a flying trip to Bisbee to see the inauguration of the Fourth of July activities in the form of the grand ball, ice cream social and free for all bolting match.

The opera house built on the site of the old one, by Messrs. Shattuck & Mason is one of the finest halls in the territory and besides the auditorium, on the first floor there is a second story to be devoted to the use of secret societies. The whole structure is substantially built throughout and is a credit to the town and the enterprise of the builders.

Another crowd of visitors arrived today among whom were Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Sydow and Mrs. Cowan and family of Tombstone; Wm. Land, wife and daughter; Mrs. Temple of Benson accompanied by her daughter Miss Hia, and her granddaughter, Miss Cheek. Miss Temple has been attending the Territorial Normal at Tempe and Miss Cheek a business college in California.

The ball was a great success, both from a financial and social point of view. It was the grand social event in Bisbee and regret we cannot give the affair extended favorable notice with the short time and space at our disposal.

The ice cream was delicious and the bolting match which came as a sort of interlude in the night's entertainment, was conducted on the upper floor of the opera house to the evident delight of the participants and the consternation of the audience.

A TRAGEDY

Wm C Greene Kills James Burnett

AND HE DIES INSTANTLY

Greene in Custody and Makes a Statement to the Reporter of the "Prospector."

THE CORONER'S INQUEST

Once more has Tombstone asserted herself as a sensation producer. This time the sensation involved another human life. W. C. Greene shot and killed James C. Burnett on Allen street.

This afternoon about one o'clock the usual quiet of the city was disturbed by the report of a shot followed by three more, apparently in the same direction on Allen Street.

A PROSPECTOR reporter was on the ground within a few seconds and in the midst of a crowd of excited spectators lay the body of James C. Burnett face downward in a pool of blood.

When the body was turned over the last heaving of the lungs caused gouts of blood to spout from a ghastly wound in the breast.

All was excitement and confusion. At this moment Sheriff Scott White appeared and Chief of Police Wiser, to whom Greene had surrendered, delivered the prisoner to him and he was conducted to jail.

Coroner Jas. Duncan impounded a jury who, after examining the body retired to the city hall to hear the evidence in the case.

The origin of the tragedy dates immediately from the destruction of the dam of Greene which caused the death by drowning of his little daughter and her playmate, Edna Cochran.

Subsequent to the destruction of Greene's dam, the dam of Burnett was also destroyed and when Burnett came to the city yesterday it was with the intention of going to his ranch to investigate.

Greene left the city yesterday evening in his buggy accompanied by Sheriff White bound for the ranch. He returned again this morning and nothing unusual was observed in his demeanor before the shooting occurred.

GREENE'S STATEMENT.
A PROSPECTOR reporter visited Greene in the sheriff's office a few minutes after the shooting and asked him if he had any statement to make. He said: "I have no statement to make other than that man was the cause of my child being drowned. I ascertained beyond the shadow of a doubt that he was the guilty man and when I thought of my little girl as she put her arms around my neck on the day she was drowned, I could think of nothing but vengeance on the man that caused her death. I have lived in this territory twenty-five years and have always been a peaceable law-abiding man. I held no animosity and have no regret for anything except the death of my little girl, and the little Cochran girl and the grief of my poor wife." He added, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, with the Lord."

Mr. Greene came into the PROSPECTOR office on the 28th ult. and had a notice inserted in the paper offering a reward of $1000 for proof of the identity of the person who destroyed his dam and thereby caused the death by drowning of his daughter and her little companion. He said very little at the time but seemed deeply affected and showed signs of grief.

Both men are well known throughout the county, having been pioneers before the creation of Cochise county. Burnett, at the time of his death was justice of the Peace at Pearce and owned a ranch on the San Pedro near the ranch of W. C. Greene. A chance word revealed the fact that the relations of the two men have not been of the most friendly character for a long time past. Greene accusing Burnett of having tried to injure him in different ways.

CORONER'S INQUEST
The most important witness sworn was John Montgomery who testified that when Mr. Greene came into town with Mr. Scott White, he came to his stable and asked that his team be put up and also left his pistol with him. "I locked it up, and later, just before the shooting, probably two hours later he asked me if there was any one working in Hart's old shop. I told him there was; he intimated to me his pistol needed repairs and he wanted to have it repaired. I started to get it for him as the room was occupied at that time, and I told him he would have to wait a few minutes before I could get it. He talked of the weather a few minutes, about rain, then I got a chair for him to sit down until I could get the pistol; he sat down. Perhaps five or ten minutes after he spoke about the pistol, I went and got it for him. I gave it to him and he had apparently started, as I supposed, for the shop; but he did not put it in his pocket as far as I saw; he turned around by the corner of the office and accused Jim Burnett of having his (Greene's) dam blown up; the words I don't remember. Burnett made denial in words which I do not remember, and just then there were three shots fired one immediately following another by Wm. Greene. I saw him with his pistol in his hand. I saw him draw the pistol and three shots immediately followed. There was another I think after Burnett fell. Burnett came through the front door of the office, apparently very badly wounded, went on the sidewalk probably forty feet, more or less, and then fell. Burnett had been sitting for some time in the inside of the office. I heard no words of Burnett except the disclaimer to the accusation of Greene.

The jury of inquest found that the deceased came to his death by pistol shot wounds inflicted by William C. Greene.

GOOD NEWS

From the Dragoon Copper Belt.

Mr. P. H. Clark, who together with Mr. Geo. Hoyt have a bond on a group of copper mines in the Dragoon mountains, owned by Mr. Wm. Holmes, returned this morning from Los Angeles.

During Mr. Clark's absence the work of development has been steadily carried on and the working force will probably be largely increased immediately.

These mines are situated in the near vicinity of, and on the same lode, with other copper properties of which the PROSPECTOR has had occasion to speak at different times in the past, and which bears out the prediction of the future importance of the Dragoons as a rich mineral district.

Mr. Clark will proceed immediately to the mines and as soon as practicable will increase the development force and otherwise put the property in such shape as will to the best advantage show its wonderful possibilities.

Paine's Celery Compound in High Favor in His Family.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2.—Congressman Peter J. Otey has distinguished himself by active and honorable service in the house of representatives where he was sent from the Sixth district of Virginia. On the floor of the house and in the committee room he is a conspicuous advocate of measures for the advancement of good government. In what high honor Paine's celery compound is held in the family of this distinguished legislator appears from the following letter:

Dear Sirs:—For years I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia, and during the past winter was advised to try your Paine's celery compound, and I used two bottles of it with great benefit. I was so much pleased with it that I persuaded my brother, John Floyd, to use it. He has been having a bad form of nervous dyspepsia, and now, after using the compound for two months, is so much improved that we feel sure a third bottle will complete his cure. Every one has spoken of the marked change for the better in his appearance. Respectfully,

Mrs. Mallie Floyd Otey.

This is one of some 15 or 20 letters from United States congressmen or members of their families, that have recently appeared in the newspapers here, heartily recommending Paine's celery compound.

One of the most eminent physicians in this city, being interviewed by one of the papers says:

"Paine's celery compound marks a tremendous stride in the cure of diseases.

"No remedy has ever succeeded in driving out the underlying causes of nervous and organic troubles so surely and rapidly. No remedy represents so comprehensive a knowledge of nervous exhaustion. It cures where other means have been tried and found futile.

Hundreds of thousands have been induced to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by reading what it has done for others, and having tested its merits for themselves are today its warmest friends. For sale by all dealers in Bisbee and Tombstone.
